

Purdue University is known not only for science and technology, but also for fostering imagination, ingenuity, and innovation. It's a place where those who seek an education come to make their ideas real.

The College of Liberal Arts sees as its mission educating every individual to live more knowledgeably, responsibly, and humanely in a society in which simple solutions no longer answer complex problems.

Our German majors and minors attain language skills and broader world views to guide them in their personal goals and careers in the global market.

*Think Broadly.
Lead Boldly.*

Students who study German at Purdue work together with faculty to solve real-world problems and gain global understanding.

Students study abroad for cultural, professional, and academic gains.

Students are immersed in active learning in the classroom.

Students think broadly and lead boldly.
