

Guidelines and Invitation to Submit Manuscripts

PURDUE STUDIES IN ROMANCE LITERATURES welcomes completed manuscripts on topics of literary, theoretical, or philological importance that make a significant contribution to scholarship in French, Italian, Luso-Brazilian, Spanish, and Spanish American literatures.

Preliminary inquiry

Authors interested in publishing with PSRL should first send a paper proposal describing their work. For details, see our Guidelines for Proposals. The editors will examine the materials and, if interested, request the manuscript.

Preparation of the manuscript

Manuscripts should be approximately 80,000–110,000 words in length. The entire manuscript (text, quotes, notes, and bibliography) must be double spaced. The text may be in English, French, or Spanish. If you include images, there should be no more than six. Quotations should be in the original language. Quotations in French, Portuguese, and Spanish do not need to be translated. A quotation in another language should be followed by an English translation. Please inquire for details. Dissertations must be rigorously revised before submission to meet the definition of a book. The manuscript must conform to the latest edition of the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (New York: MLA), following the parenthetical style of documentation. Pages should be numbered in the top right-hand corner, and page numbers should be included in the Table of Contents.

Materials required for submission

Authors are required to submit (1) two clean paper copies of the manuscript, completely double spaced, unbound, and printed on one side only; (2) a PDF of the entire manuscript; and (3) a signed statement that PSRL is and will remain the sole reviewing agency while it is considering the work for publication. Each copy should be an anonymous manuscript, including two title pages, one with the author's name, the other without. The author's name must not appear in the page headings or be identifiable from the text. However, the manuscript will be sent out as it is received. Copies will not be returned.

Additional requirements

If a manuscript is accepted for publication, the author will be asked for a subvention to defray some of the production expenses. At that time, we also require an electronic copy of the final manuscript.
