

IDIS Program in Classical Studies

Film Showing and Discussion

Fall 2009

Pygmalion and the Classics

November 12, 7:30-10:00pm,
Beering Room 2290

Purdue Professor Antonia Syson will show the 1938 film version of what is arguably George Bernard Shaw's most famous play (the one that was adapted for Broadway by Lerner and Lowe as My Fair Lady). The Eta Sigma Phi Honor Society will provide refreshments and Professor Syson will conduct a discussion of its relation to the classics, and especially to Ovid's Metamorphoses.

NEW: Travel Grant Competition for 2009-2010. All undergraduate and graduate students are eligible to apply for two grants of $250 for conference presentation funding. Deadline: Dec. 1, 2009. More information at IDIS Classics URL below.

<http://www.cla.purdue.edu/classics/>

Events sponsored by the Interdisciplinary Program in Classics are free and open to the public. Students, faculty, staff, and members of the community are encouraged to attend. Purdue University is an equal opportunity institution.