

Annual Purdue University Renaissance Comparative Prose Conference 2009

This year's conference in honor of
Michael Murrin and James Nohrnberg

November 5-6, 2009
Purdue University
West Lafayette, Indiana

Call for Papers

Featured Speakers:

Michael Murrin, University of Chicago
"The Dragon Lecture"

James Nohrnberg, University of Virginia
"The Mythical Method' in Simile, Saga, Verse, and Prose"

Papers are invited exploring any aspect of classical, medieval, or Renaissance studies, including commentary or reminiscences about the work of Professors Michael Murrin and James Nohrnberg, biblical studies, magic, poetry, dragons, etc. Submissions are encouraged from scholars whose research is comparative in approach, particularly those investigating texts in languages other than English.

Please send 300-350 word abstracts to: bspangen@purdue.edu.

- Review of abstracts will begin June 1, 2009.
- Notification by August 14, 2009.

For more information please contact:

Brady Spangenberg
Comparative Literature Program
Purdue University
500 Oval Drive
West Lafayette, IN 47907 USA
765-532-3025
bspangen@purdue.edu