

From: Paul, Richard W
To: Evans, Kathryn Marie Henke; fall_2010_ad_27500-001@lists.purdue.edu
Subject: HALLOWEEN-AND-a-third-problem
Date: Thursday, October 28, 2010 2:42:55 PM

MANY OF YOU ARE NOW WORKING ON YOUR SECOND PIECE. I WANT THREE PIECES BY THE END OF THE SEMESTER. IF YOUR SECOND PIECE IS "BIG" OR "COMPLEX" IT CAN COUNT AS TWO PIECES. TALK TO ME IN CLASS ABOUT IF YOUR SECOND PIECE COUNTS AS TWO.

TAKE A LOOK AT THE CARVINGS BELOW...

Artist Ray Villafane began carving pumpkins on a lark for his art students in a small rural school district in Michigan. The hobby changed his life as he gained a viral following online and unlocked his genuine love of sculpting. Here are images of pumpkin carvings Villafane created over the past five years.

Got my eye on you

Who let me outta here?

Would you open this zipper?

Rough day

President Barack Obama

Please don't pull on that tab

Say 'aaaahhhh'!

Predator pumpkin

Motorized Medusa

It's alive!!

Native American portrait

Brainiac

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde?

Unlocking a vision

Foods with moods

Biting his tongue

David Letterman

The fear inside