

EGS-1

English Graduate Studies Form EGS-1

Preliminary Examination Checklist for Ph.D. Students in Literary Studies (New System)

Students must file a copy of this checklist with the English Graduate Office at the time they hand their reading lists and exam questions to their committees.

Note that the dates below are the final deadlines which have to be met and recorded in the English Graduate Office before the student may take the examination. To take advantage of the flexibility in the new system, students are urged to consult with their major professors and their committees over their reading lists and their examination questions well in advance of the published deadlines.

Student's name _____

Examination Area (Field) _____

Names of the members of the student's advisory committee = the examination committee (may be up to four members):

_____, _____, _____,
_____.

Coursework in the student's major area must be completed before the examination can be taken. Courses for major area and dates completed: _____

Deadlines for handing in Reading Lists to Advisory Committees:

If you plan to take your exam in March, 2006, your reading lists must be approved by your major professor by the end of November, 2005: _____

If you plan to take your exam in September, 2006, your reading lists must be approved by your major professor by end of April, 2006: _____

If you plan to take your exam in November, 2006, your reading lists must be approved by your major professor by the end of August, 2006: _____

If you plan to take your exam in March, 2007, your reading lists must be approved by your major professor by the end of November 2006: _____

Deadlines for handing in Examination Questions to Advisory Committees:

If you plan to take your exam in March, 2006, your examination questions must be given to your major professor by the end of January 2006: _____

If you plan to take your exam in September, 2006, your examination questions must be given to your major professor by the Monday of the week before classes begin (Orientation Week), August 2006: _____

If you plan to take your exam in November, 2006, your examination questions must be given to your major professor by the end of October, 2006: _____

If you plan to take your exam in March, 2007, your reading lists must be given to your major professor by the end of January 2007: _____