

ILLUMINATIONS

PURDUE UNIVERSITY

Fifth Annual Series — 2003-2004

TUESDAYS, 4:25 - 5:45 pm

unless posted otherwise all fora are at

THE STONE CELLAR (The Mary Ford Room - Stone B-2)

Illuminations: Occasional interdisciplinary fora bringing together faculty and students across their primary interests and academic specialties. The event is sponsored by the English & Philosophy Ph.D. Program with other collaborating programs at Purdue University. All are welcome!

FALL 2003

9/23 Calvin O. Schrag, Professor of Philosophy Emeritus

The Grammar of Transcendence

10/07 STEWART Ctr 313:

Antonio D. Tillis, Assistant Professor of Foreign Languages and Literatures &

African American Studies

Africanicity and the New World 'Black' Agenda in Harlem and Havana from 1900-1930:

An Overview

10/21 Alan McKenzie, Professor of English

Samuel Johnson's 'Life of Foucault'— Theory, Wit, and Wisdom

11/11 Kevin Anderson, Professor of Political Science

The U.S.-Russian Marx-Engels Gesamtausgabe Volume: Marx's 1879-82 Writings on

Non-Western and Precapitalist Societies and Gender

SPRING 2004

Special co-sponsored event of the English & Philosophy Ph.D. Program
*February 6-8, 2004, Graduate Student Conference, IDENTIFICATIONS: FAITH, THEORY, AND IDENTITY-MAKING. Keynote: Merold Westphal, Distinguished Professor of Philosophy, Fordham University, Faith and (non) Identity
For more information about these events, see the program website or contact the director

2/3 Don Mitchell, Professor of Philosophy & Religious Studies

God and Nothingness: Reflections on the Kyoto School

2/24 Ruth Salvaggio, Director of Women's Studies & Professor of English and Women's Studies

Flowers, Discourse, and other Imperial Terrains: Some Thoughts on Jamaica Kincaid's MY GARDEN (BOOK)

3/23 Thomas F. Broden, Associate Professor of French

Fashion, Discourse, Culture, and History: the Sign Regimes of Empire and Romantic Elegant Apparel in France and the West

4/13 TBA

To submit proposals for future presentations, contact Martin Beck Matustik,
Director of the English & Philosophy Ph.D. Program <mmatustk@purdue.edu>

<<http://www.sla.purdue.edu/academic/idis/phil-lit/>>

Purdue is an equal access/equal opportunity university