

The Women's, Gender, & Sexuality Studies Program presents

Learning Through Sisterhood: Understanding the Iran Protests from an Intersectional Lens

Joining us virtually

Nazanin Shahrokni

Nazanin Shahrokni is a sociologist and an assistant professor of gender and globalization at the London School of Economics, where she directs the MSc program for Gender and Gender Research. Her scholarly work is located at the intersection of gender and globalization, feminist geography, and ethnographies of the state in Iran, the Middle East and beyond. Nazanin is the author of the award-winning book Women in Place: The Politics of Gender Segregation in Iran (UC Press 2020). She also serves on the Executive Committee of the International Sociological Association.

The speaker will be presenting via Zoom, but this event will be an in-person event for attendees.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29
12:30 – 2:00 PM (EST)
RECITATION HALL, ROOM 317

wgss@purdue.edu

School of Interdisciplinary Studies