EAST ASIA IN THE MODERN WORLD

Purposes of the Course: To convey information about the politics and societies of China, Japan, and Korea; to instill an appreciation of other cultures; and to create an understanding of historical methods.

Throughout the course, we will be thinking about the relationship between state and society. The fourth century BCE Chinese philosopher Mencius articulated the moral imperative for rulers to govern on behalf of the people when he said, “Heaven sees as the people see.” The success of the Japanese state in establishing a “strong and wealthy nation” was envied and emulated in other East Asian nations. Opponents of the Meiji state launched a movement for “Freedom and People’s Rights,” echoing the ideals of Western philosophers. As we review the events of the last century and a half in East Asia, let us use these sayings and slogans as touchstones on the ideals of good government, national aspirations, and individual rights.

Required Texts:

Short Stories Available from Purdue Libraries Electronic Resources and on Blackboard:
Mori Ogai, “Maihime” (Dancing Girl), Monumenta Nipponica 30.2 (Summer 1975):151-166. [1890]

SCHEDULE OF LECTURES AND READINGS

Next to each date is a title for the day’s lecture or activity. Under each lecture title are the readings that correspond to that lecture. If you ever have to miss a class, be sure to do the readings even more carefully than usual. Activities in which you have to perform are in capital letters.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE COURSE

1. There will be three examinations, one on February 12, one on March 26, and one on the day scheduled for the final examination in this course. Each will count 20% of the final grade. If because of serious illness or some other personal emergency, you have to miss an examination, be sure to notify Professor Hastings by e-mail before the examination begins. In this course, the instructors will provide paper for the examination; during the examination, as during quizzes and participation exercises, you should have no paper on your desk other than that provided. Neither should you use any electronic device. Number grades are assigned on the assumption that 98-100=A+, 93-97=A, 90-92=A-, 88-89=B+, 83-87=B, 80-82, B-, 78-79=C+, 73-77=C, 70-72=C-, 68-69=D+, 63-67=D, 60-62=D-.
2. There will be three quizzes on short stories, each of which will count 10% of the final grade. There will be a review sheet for each one. The dates are as follows:
   January 31, Short stories by Mori Ōgai, Higuchi Ichiyō, and Kunikida Doppo
   February 26, Short Stories by Ch’ae Man-shik, Yi Hyo-Sok, and Yi Sang
   April 11, Short Stories by Ma Yuan, Mo Yan, and Zhang Kangkang
3. PARTICIPATION: 10% of the final grade. This portion of the grade rewards students for attending class in an engaged manner, for participating in Asia-related campus events, and for showing consideration and respect for your fellow students.
   There will be at least 8 in-class activities that contribute to this grade, each of which will be graded on a scale of 0-10. Normally, we will count your best six scores plus your attendance. Points may be lowered or denied for academic dishonesty, rudeness, or lack of consideration.

According to Purdue University regulations, students are expected to be present for every meeting of the classes in which they are enrolled. Because the policy in this course allows you such a generous number of absences, there will be no make-ups for any of the participation exercises. If because of a special university activity, serious illness, or some other personal circumstance, you have recurring absences, be sure to notify the instructor in writing in advance.

As a courtesy to everyone involved in the classroom experience, please arrive at class promptly, refrain from carrying on private conversations during the lecture, and turn off cell phones before class.

4. It goes without saying that everything you write in this course should be in your own words.

5. Students are expected to adhere to the highest standards of academic integrity. The Dean of Students’ Office provides a useful guide entitled "Academic Integrity: A Guide for Students" (http://www.purdue.edu/ODOS/osrr/integrity.htm). Punishments for students found guilty of academic dishonesty include punitive grading, report to the Dean of Students’ Office, warning from the Dean of Students’ Office, probation, probated suspension, suspension, or expulsion.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

1. There will be Blackboard Learn for this course.
http://www.itap.purdue.edu/tlt/blackboard/ Check for announcements.

2. EMERGENCY PROCEDURE: If Purdue University is open, this course will meet.
In the event of a major campus emergency, it may be necessary to make changes in course requirements, deadlines, and grading percentages; any such changes will be announced on Blackboard Learn.

3. EVALUATIONS: Purdue University is phasing in an online course evaluation system. During the fifteenth week of the semester, you will receive an official e-mail with a link to the course evaluation site. You are encouraged to participate.
