

PHIL230/REL230:

Religions of the East

Fall 2021, Dr. Ashley Purpura, apurpur@purdue.edu

This course offers an interdisciplinary introduction to the study of: Hinduism, Jainism, Sikhism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism, Shintoism, and Zoroastrianism. The philosophical and religious contexts of each tradition are examined via history, primary texts, key teachings, rituals, present practice, and diverse cultural expressions. All are welcome to this active learning class!