

Fall 2025

WGSS 28200: Intro to LGBTQ Studies

This course offers students an introduction to the interdisciplinary study of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer lives. It provides a basic grounding in theories of sexuality and LGBT histories, identities and movements in the U.S. and globally.

Fall 2025 Sections:

TR 3:00 - 4:15 PM

TR 4:30 - 5:45 PM

Course Includes:

- *Interactive teaching
- *Engaging in-class activities
- *Guest speakers
- *Independent, interdisciplinary research

Skills Gained:

Reading closely, writing clearly, speaking with confidence, and engaging with differing viewpoints and perspectives.

Course approved for University Core Behavioral & Social Sciences requirement.
Counts toward many majors and minors!