This course introduces some of the main trends and major figures of the Christian Middle Ages (roughly 400-1400 A.D.). Emphasis will be on the way thinkers from this period make use of philosophy in theology, especially in developing their views about the nature and existence of God, the function and limits of religious language, and the proper understanding of particular religious doctrines such as Trinity, Incarnation, and Atonement.