Professor Pat Boling presents
“Thinking Like a Political Theorist as an Approach to Comparative Social Policy.”

Pat Boling received her PhD in political science from UC Berkeley, and has taught at Purdue since 1992. Her research provides theoretical and comparative insight into policy areas that straddle the public-private divide. She is the author of two books (Privacy and the Politics of Intimate Life, Cornell UP, 1996, and The Politics of Work-Family Policies: Comparing Japan, France, Germany and the United States, Cambridge UP, 2015), and of articles related to pregnancy disabilities, teaching fat feminism, mothering as a route to political activism, food justice, and farm-to-school policies.
