Written in Stone
Monthly Newsletter of Purdue Sociology
November 2017

Publications

Honors

Robert Perrucci was selected by Dean David A. Reingold as a “For the Honor” recipient. Robert was selected as one of twenty senior sociologists nationwide to write a chapter in the ASA sponsored project, Journeys in Sociology: From First Encounters to Fulfilling Retirements, edited by R. B. Darling and P. J. Stein (Temple University Press). The chapter will regard the role sociology plays in his life.

Engagement

Rachel Einwohner was quoted in Purdue’s Exponent on October 16 in an article about protest and free speech.

Linda Renzulli hosted the Midwest SOE (Sociology of Education) Conference at Purdue in Stewart Center on October 12-13. More than 60 graduate students and faculty from over 10 Midwest institutions participated.

Lu Ann Aday (MS ‘70, PhD ‘73) has made a monetary commitment for extraordinary contributions in the humanities and social sciences. It is named the Lu Ann Aday Award.

Events for your Calendar:

November 3 – Workshop- Trent Mize “Missing Data Analysis” 2-5pm in PFEN 241

November 13 – Research Talk 3-4:30pm in SC 239

November 15 – Rachel Einwohner “Hope & Honor: Explaining Jewish Resistance during the Holocaust” 12:30-1:30pm – STEW 313

November 15—Research Talk 3-4:30pm in WALC 1132

November 17 – SOC Faculty Meeting 8-9:30am in STON 144

November 27—Research Talk 3-4:30pm in LWSN 1142

December 6 – SOC Faculty Meeting 3:30-5pm in STON 144

December 8—Winter Recognition Party 7-9:00pm Town & Gown Bistro

November Birthdays

Spencer Headworth 11/12
Karen Studebaker 11/25

Edited by Karen Studebaker and Linda Renzulli, with contributions from Candy Lawson. WIS (24)  www.cla.purdue.edu/sociology/