March 11, 2014

Beering Hall, room 1245, 3:30 pm

Speak Now or Forever Hold your Peace:
Black women state legislators on same-sex marriage

Dr. Nadia Brown
Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science
Purdue University

Dr. Nadia Brown is Assistant Professor at Purdue University in the department of Political Science and African American Studies and Research Center. She is also affiliated faculty in Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. Before Dr. Brown came to Purdue she was Assistant Professor of Political Science and African American Studies and affiliated faculty in Women’s Studies at Saint Louis University. She will be discussing her New book, Sisters in the Statehouse: Black Women and Legislative Decision Making (Oxford University Press, 2014).

Sisters in the Statehouse: Black Women and Legislative Decision Making Book signing and reception following talk

For more information contact:
African American Studies & Research Center
Beering Hall of Liberal Arts and Education, Room 6182
100 N. University Street
West Lafayette, IN 47907-2098
Phone: 765-494-5680
Website: http://www.cla.purdue.edu/african-american