

ERIN CHRISTINE BARR

CIRICULUM VITAE

- EDUCATION
- Purdue University – West Lafayette, IN 2018 – Present
- PhD. Student in American History
 - Department Fellowship Recipient
- Illinois State University – Normal, IL 2015 – 2017
- Master of Arts – History
 - Thesis: “Fortune Will Favour the Brave:” Irish Women Come to America, 1845 – 1870”
- State University of New York at Potsdam – Potsdam, NY 2011 – 2015
- Bachelor of Arts – History and Archaeology, Classics Minor

-
- TEACHING EXPERIENCE
- Purdue University August 2018 – Present
- Graduate Assistant: Responsible for grading exams, papers, and quizzes, as well as holding office hours, hosting review sessions, and lecturing both supervised and unsupervised.
 - World War II
- John A. Logan College August 2017 – August 2018
- Term-Faculty
 - Western Civilizations II (HIS 102)
 - Global Civilizations I (HIS 103)
 - Global Civilizations II (HIS 104)
 - United States History I (HIS 201)
 - Student Mentor
 - Writing Center Tutor
- Illinois State University 2015 – 2017
- Graduate Assistant : Responsible for grading exams, papers, and quizzes, as well as holding office hours, hosting review sessions, and lecturing both supervised and unsupervised.
 - Western Civilization I
 - United States History I
 - United States History II

State University of New York at Potsdam 2013 – 2015

- Undergraduate Learning Assistant, History Department: Responsible for maintaining the History Computer Lab, holding review sessions, grading exams, and assisting the professors in the creation of assignments.
- Teaching Assistant, Primate Studies: Responsible for running the Primate Laboratory, grading exams, and holding review sessions.

PUBLISHING AND CONFERENCES

American Conference of Irish Studies November, 2017

- Mid-Atlantic Conference at Georgetown University – Panelist
- “Fortune Will Favour the Brave:’ Irish Women Come to America, 1845 – 1870”

PCA/ACA Conference April, 2017

- National Conference in San Diego
- “W.E.B. DuBois: In Search of a More Perfect Union”

The Potsdam Historian Journal April, 2015

- “A Question of Succession: Was There and Amenhotep III/IV Co-regency?”

RELATED EXPERIENCE

Purdue University

- History Graduate Student Association Representative – 2018/19
- Faculty Teaching Awards Committee – Graduate Student Representative – 2018-/19

Law Firm of David K. Cox July 2017 – Present

- Fulfilled the position of legal clerk, and worked on case research and documentation for the law firm.
- As of December 1st, 2017, I was promoted to research assistant and editor at Mr. Cox’s firm and personal/academic publications.

Illinois State University

- University Research Symposium – 2016 and 2017
- History Department Chair Search Committee Member – 2016/17

State University of New York at Potsdam

- Admissions Department Student Worker – 2012 to 2015
- Student Government Budget Committee – 2014/15
- Student Government Chief Justice – 2014/15
- Student Government Assistant Chief Justice – 2013/14

- History Association President – 2013 to 2015
 - Newman Club Senator and Treasurer – 2013/14
 - History Association Vice President – 2012/13
-

AWARDS

Illinois State University

- Midwestern Association of Graduate Schools Thesis Competition – Nominee for Illinois State University – 2018
- James L. Fisher Award – Most Outstanding Thesis at Illinois State University – 2018
 - James L. Fisher Award – Most Outstanding Thesis in the College of Arts and Sciences – 2018
- Helen Cavanaugh Award – Best History Master’s Thesis – 2018
- Three Minute Thesis – Second Place Overall – 2017
 - Three Minute Thesis Finalist for College of Arts and Sciences – 2017
 - Three Minute Thesis Finalist for History Department – 2016

State University of New York at Potsdam

- Graduated Magna Cum Laude – 2015
 - Historical Scholars Award – 2015
-

LANGUAGES

English – Native language.

Latin – Four semesters total.

Spanish – Six years during primary education.

MEMBERSHIPS

Phi Alpha Theta - 2013

Lambda Alpha - 2013
