

Jacob Mach

3150 Eagles Way Drive, Apt. 1542 Lafayette, Indiana 47909

Phone: 937-760-3943

Email: jmach@purdue.edu

Education

Cedarville University, Bachelor of Arts, History 2014-2018
Minors in International Studies and Bible

GPA: 3.99 (GPA in History: 4.00)

Bowling Green State University, Master of Arts, History 2018-2020
Graduate Assistant

GPA: 4.00

Purdue University, PhD, American History 2020-Present
Graduate Assistant

Relevant Experience

Research Assistant Summer 2017

Cedarville University/Cedarville, Ohio

Responsibilities:

- Worked with two professors (Dr. Glenn Duerr and Dr. Marc Clauson)
- Projects included: researching topics and writing short essays, reviewing and editing chapters of books, developing resource lists, and providing input for book/article content.
- Sharpened research skills and communication skills

Published and Forthcoming Projects:

- Duerr, Glen. Patriotism and the Cross: A Theology of Nationalism. Eugene, OR: Resource Publishers, 2020.
- Duerr, Glen, ed. Secessionism and Terrorism: Bombs, Blood, and Independence in Europe and Eurasia. New York: Routledge, 2019.

Teaching Assistant

Bowling Green State University/ Bowling Green, Ohio

Fall 2018- Fall 2020

Responsibilities:

- Worked with three professors (Dr. Benjamin Greene, Dr. Kara Barr, and Dr. Rebecca Mancuso)
- Tasks included: graded student papers, quizzes, and exams; provided feedback on discussion posts; held office hours to field students' questions; various other tasks assigned by professors
- Sharpened grading, communication and leadership skills

Publications

Duerr, Glen and Jacob Mach. 2020. "Slovakia" in Burnett, Troy (ed.). Nationalism Today:

Revisionist, Separatist, and Extremist Movements around the World. Santa Barbara, CA: ABC-CLIO.

Duerr, Glen and Jacob Mach. 2020. "Denmark" in Burnett, Troy (ed.). Nationalism Today: Revisionist, Separatist, and Extremist Movements around the World. Santa Barbara, CA: ABC-CLIO.

Other Experience

Graduate Student Orientation Assistant

Fall 2019

Bowling Green State University/Bowling Green, Ohio

Responsibilities:

- Worked closely with the Graduate Director, Dr. Benjamin Greene, assisted in developing schedule for Orientation, coordinated and presented multiple sessions to incoming students
- Sharpened communication skills, worked closely with a veteran faculty member, organized sessions with fellow second-year students, fielded questions and provided feedback

Presentations

"Hitler, Anti-Semitism, and the Demise of the Third Reich" October 2016
The Conference on Faith and History, Regent University

"Before Vietnam: Understanding the Initial Stages of US Involvement in Southeast Asia" October 2018
The Conference on Faith and History, Calvin College

"The 1974 Xenia Tornado" March 2019
Ohio Academy of History, Miami-Middletown University

Awards/Honors

Honors Program 2014-2018

Edmund Burke Award (for excellence in leadership and service) 2017

Outstanding Graduate Seminar Paper

- "And Through the good Providence of God...": The Theology of Mary Rowlandson 2020

References

Dr. Benjamin Greene, Associate Professor and Graduate Program Coordinator
Bowling Green State University,
Bowling Green, Ohio, 43402
greeneb@bgsu.edu

Dr. Scott Martin, Professor and Thesis Adviser
Bowling Green State University,
Bowling Green, Ohio, 43402
smartin@bgsu.edu