

Social agency, political power, and legal boundaries in Classical German Philosophy

Purdue University, Sept. 30-Oct. 1, 2022.

Friday, Sept. 30.

9:30-10:30 JP Messina: “What, for Kant, is Political Agency?”

10:30-11:00 Break

11:00-12:00 Ansgar Lyssy: “Kant on Crimes against Humanity”

12:00-13:30 Lunch

13:30-14:30 Sebastian Stein: “Particular happiness and universal duty: Kant and Hegel on ethical freedom”

14:30-15:00 Break

15:00-16:00 Kevin Harrelson: “Hegel on the Human-Person Problem.”

16:00-16:30 Break

16:30-17:30 Daniel James: “Hegel on State Power and ‘Absolute Right’ to Colonize”

Saturday, Oct. 1.

- 9:30-10:30 Thomas Meyer: “The Individual's Power in a Hegelian World”
-
- 10:30-11:00 Break
-
- 11:00-12:00 Olga Lyanda-Geller: “War and Peace: Hegel and Rosenzweig on the (Im)possibility of War”
-
- 12:00-13:30 Lunch
-
- 13:30-14:30 Lorenzo Rustighi: “Virtue vs Constitution in Hegel's Philosophy of Right”
-
- 14:30-15:00 Break
-
- 15:00-16:00 Christopher Yeomans: “Provisionality, Pluralism & Historicism in Classical German Political Philosophy”
-
- 16:00-17:00 Johannes-Georg Schülein: “Schelling on Second Nature and Social Freedom”
-
- 17:00-17:30 Break
-
- 17:30-18:30 Kyla Bruff: “Reconstructing Schelling's Political Philosophy From Beginning to End”

Organized by Christopher Yeomans and Ansgar Lyssy
Contact and registration: cyeomans@purdue.edu