Dr. Dara Cohen is an assistant professor of public policy at the Ash Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. Dr. Cohen’s work provides timely and interesting insights into international security, civil war, gender and conflict. In her forthcoming book Rape During Civil War (Cornell University Press, 2016), she addresses the pressing issue of the use of rape during recent civil conflicts. Her award winning work has appeared in distinguished journals, such as the American Political Science Review, World Politics, Journal of Conflict Resolution, Journal of Peace Research, International Security, and the Stanford Law Review. Her research has been funded through support from the National Science Foundation, the United States Institute of Peace, Folke Bernadotte Academy and the Peace Research Institute Oslo.

Sponsored by Purdue Convocations and the Department of Political Science.