Department of Communication Mentoring Policy

At the one of first two primary committee meetings of each year a senior faculty member volunteers and is assigned to mentor a new colleague and continues in that role until the mentor or mentee requests a change. Mentors typically report to the primary committee on their mentoring activities and career progress of their mentees at least once a year. This mentoring process is in effect while faculty members are at the assistant or associate professor levels. Primary committee members also volunteer to undertake informal mentoring with new colleagues during the year.
